The Tradition of the Kaddish

The origins of the Kaddish are mysterious; angels are said to have brought it down from heaven.

It possesses wonderful power. Truly, if there is any bond strong enough to chain heaven to earth it is this prayer. It keeps the living together and forms a bridge to the mysterious realm of the dead. One might almost say that this prayer is the guardian of the people by whom alone it is uttered; therein lays the warrant of its continuance. Can a people disappear and be annihilated so long as a child remembers his or her parents?

Because this prayer does not acknowledge death, because it permits the blossom that has fallen from the tree of humankind to flower and develop again in the human heart, it therefore possesses sanctifying power.

The Spirit Lives On

“The Lord gives; the Lord takes away; blessed be the name of the Lord.” Early or late, all must answer the summons to return to the Reservoir of Being. For we lose our hold on life when our time has come, as the leaf falls from the bough when its day is done. The deeds of the righteous enrich the world, as the fallen leaf enriches the soil beneath. The dust returns to the earth, the spirit lives on with God.

Like the stars by day, our beloved dead are not seen by mortal eyes. Yet they shine on forever; theirs is eternal peace.

Let us be thankful for the companionship that continues in a love stronger than death. Sanctifying the name of God, we do honor to their memories.

Facing Death

The contemplation of death should plant within the soul elevation and peace. Above all, it should make us see things in their true light. For all things that seem foolish in the light of death are really foolish in themselves. To be annoyed because So-and-So has slighted us or has been somewhat more successful in social distinctions, pulled him or herself somehow one rung higher up the ladder than ourselves - how ridiculous all this seems when we couple it with the thought of death!

To pass each day simply and solely in the eager pursuit of money or fame, this also seems like living with shadows when one might take one's part with realities. Surely when death is at hand we should desire to say, “I have contributed my grain to the great store of the eternal. I have borne my part in the struggle for goodness.” And let no man or woman suppose that the smallest social act of goodness is wasted for society at large. All our help, petty though it be, is needed; and though we know not the manner, the fruit of every faithful service is gathered in. Let the true and noble words of a great teacher ring in conclusion upon our ears: “The growing good of the world is partly dependent on unhistorical acts; and that things are not so ill with you and me as they might have been is half owing to the number who lived faithfully a hidden life and rest in unvisited tombs.”

In memory of a father

Your memory, my dear father, fills my soul at this solemn hour. It revives in me thoughts of the love and friendliness which you bestowed upon me. The thought of you inspires me to a life of virtue; and when my pilgrimage on Earth is ended and I shall arrive at the throne of mercy, may I be worthy of you in the sight of God and humanity. May our merciful God reward you for the faithfulness and kindness you have ever shown me; may God grant you eternal peace. Amen.

In memory of a mother

I remember you in this solemn hour, my dear mother. I remember the days when you did dwell on Earth and your tender love watched over me like a guardian angel. You have gone from me, but the bond which unites our souls can never be severed; your image lives within my heart. May our merciful God reward you for the faithfulness and kindness you have ever shown me; may God lift up the light of His countenance upon you and grant you eternal peace. Amen.

In memory of a husband or a wife

I remember you in this solemn hour, dear companion of my life. I remember the happy days we lived together; I remember your tender affection and self-denial while hand in hand we trod the path of our wedded life, when your love and fidelity were my comfort, and your counsel and aid were my support. Though death has summoned you from my side, your image still lives in my heart and continues to be an inspiration to me. May God have you in His keeping and give you bliss eternal. Amen.

In memory of a child

I remember you in this solemn hour, my beloved child. I remember the days when I watched your bodily and mental unfolding, and fostered beautiful hopes for your future. You were taken from me, yet in my heart the fond remembrance of you can never die. In my grief I prayed an unanswered question: Why you, my dear child? God's answer has only been to recall the joy and sweetness you brought into my life. I cherish that joy, your life. May my tears bathe you in warmth and love. As God, my staff and support, witnesses my tears, may He hold you in the cup of His hand and give you love and bliss eternal. Amen.

In memory or a brother, sister or friend

I remember you in this solemn hour, my beloved brother/sister/friend. I remember the days when we lived together in happy companionship and your loving friendship was my delight and support. Though you have gone from me, your image abides with me. I think of you with gratitude and bless your memory for all the devotion you did show me. May God bless you with everlasting joy; may God have you in His keeping and grant you eternal bliss. Amen.

O God, be near me in the sorrow of my heart. Send comfort and consolation to all who are bowed down with grief and affliction. Let us see Your help speedily. May our troubled spirits find solace in the beauty of holiness which fills this memorial hour. May Your fatherly protection sustain us and may Your peace abide with us. Amen.

The Blessing of Memory

It is hard to sing of oneness when our world is not complete, when those who once brought wholeness to our lives have gone and naught but memory can fill the emptiness their passing leaves behind.

But memory can tell us only what we were, in company with those we loved; it cannot help us find what each of us, alone, must now become. Yet no one is really alone; those who live no more echo still within our thoughts and words, and what they did is part of what we have become.

We do best homage to our dead when we live our lives most fully, even in the shadow of our loss. For each of our lives is worth the life of the whole world; in each one is the breath of the Ultimate One. In affirming the One, we affirm the worth of each one whose life, now ended, brought us closer to the Source of life, in whose unity no one is alone and every life finds purpose.
