

Registration & Booking Tip Sheet

Helpful tips for frontline workers when registering and booking your first dose:

1. Visit the special provincial vaccination website. This registration link is specifically for frontline workers: <https://www.getvaccinated.gov.bc.ca/s/?variant=frontline>

Quick Tips:

- This is a special link therefore do not use the British Columbia citizen's link to access registration.
- If you have already booked an appointment using the public link and wish to register now using your frontline worker code, you will need to cancel your existing appointment before rebooking as a frontline worker.
- If clicking the registration link above does not work, try copying and pasting the link into your browser.

2. Follow the registration instructions.

Use your frontline worker access code when registering: 30007253663

Quick Tips:

- If you copy and paste the code into the field there may be extra spaces added, so remember to delete any additional spaces so the code works.
- Do not circulate this code to friends/family otherwise the code may be discontinued.

3. Once you are registered, you can book. You will receive an email or text notification with a link to book. Follow instructions to book at specific COVID-19 Immunization Centres in your health region.

Quick Tips:

- You do not need to register for your second dose, you will be automatically notified when you are eligible for your second dose which is up to 16 weeks following your first dose.

4. Please bring the following with you to your appointment:

- Driver's license (or other photo ID)
- Personal Health Number/BC Services Card, if you have one
