

Wetland Delineation Informational Meeting

This presentation will break down recent changes to state and federal wetland regulations and what they mean for your community. Learn how updated rules from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (USACE) and the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation (NYSDEC) are affecting development projects across New York — and how wetland delineation can directly impact project approvals, costs, and timelines.

Why attend:

- Understand how expanded wetland regulations affect local projects
- Learn how wetland delineation can shape development plans
- Avoid costly delays and unexpected permitting issues
