Financial aid advisors will take your calls & questions!

What career path lies ahead for you? There are countless great jobs out there, but you'll need a college degree for many of them and education expenses can cause sticker shock. How will you pay for it all?

Join hosts Mario Armstrong and Yolanda Yazquez as they guide you through the many twists and turns of finding money for college. Meet financial professionals and watch several student success stories as you consider which careers and schools are right for you. What fits your budget? Do the financial aid numbers add up? Can you avoid going into debt with student loans?
