

Stacey Sanchez
Senior Community Loan Officer
CDC Small Business Finance

Stacey Sanchez is a Senior Community Loan Officer with CDC Small Business Finance. CDC Small Business Finance is a SBA 504 lender, SBA 7(a) lender, and SBA micro lender. As a Community Loan Officer, she specializes in loans under $300,000 for new or existing businesses and/or business acquisitions in California, Arizona and Nevada. Ms. Sanchez received the 2014 SBA Small Business Financial Services Champion

Award, the 2017 Latina of Influence and the 2017 Community Advantage Lender of the Year. Stacey has made significant contributions for economic development in her 16 years with CDC.

Ms. Sanchez has been working or volunteering with small business owners for over 30 years. She started her career with a family owned business and spent 10 years helping them grow from 6 locations to 60. Ms. Sanchez has worked as a consultant for several Small Business Development Centers, a Minority Small Business Development Center, a SBA consulting company, and was with the U.S. Small Business Administration Santa Ana District Office for five years, as the Lead Economic Development Specialist and Public Information Officer.

Ms. Sanchez is the current Chair of the City of Santa Ana Workforce Investment Board and has been on the Board since 2008. She was on the CAMEO Board for 6 years, serving as Chair and Vice- President. CAMEO, a statewide membership organization of microenterprise organizations and lenders. She has also owned a small business with her husband and is active at her children's school.