Addressing climate change is at the forefront of government policy today. LA Mayor Eric Garcetti, CA Governor Newsom, and President Joe Biden have all set aggressive sustainability goals and budgets. Are you informed about how this can benefit your business?

- Learn why environmentally sustainable business practices matter.
- Create a plan to reduce energy, water, and transportation costs while "greening" your business.
- Get help obtaining rebates and applying for programs to help you operate more profitably and support the environment.

WHAT YOU
