ANGELCITY
DEVELOPMENT

Angel City Development is a construction company and general contractor in Woodland Hills founded by Haim Zafrani in 2018.

In light of the pandemic, Haim was seeking assistance obtaining capital for his business as well as marketing expertise to help increase his brand awareness as a new business. The Alliance determined that he was eligible for a possible increase in his EIDL loan, PPP loan forgiveness, and a second PPP loan. His Alliance business advisor also referred him to additional sources of potential funding including the Los Angeles County Business Stabilization Fund, the California Rebuilding Fund, and a 0% interest working capital loan for LA County residents.

The Alliance offered Haim additional assistance in marketing his business through our Executive-in-Residence Program to help him with strategy, branding, and digital marketing. Haim is well on his way to building a strong foundation for his business and The Alliance will continue to be there to help.

To learn how The Alliance has helped more businesses or to enroll for free business advising, visit TheValley.net/Assistance.