Caregivers Relieve Stress at Thursday “Paint Nights”

St. Eulalia Parish/Quinn Community Center in Maywood, one of seven Caring Together, Living Better (CTLB) partners in the west suburbs, has a unique way of helping caregivers relieve stress.

At Caregiver Paint Nights each Thursday, family caregivers can express themselves through painting. The painting instructor was once a caregiver herself and found painting to be a good way to relieve anxiety. Caregivers are encouraged to bring other family members, including children, grandchildren and care recipients.
