Nan Anderson Receives Community Hero Award

Nan Anderson received the Community Hero Award from David T. Reynolds, Harmony Health Plan acting president and WellCare North Division senior vice president.

“Nan is committed to helping the aging community and others access the support and resources they need,” he said. “Since she joined the Advisory Council in 2007, she has served in many capacities, including as Advisory Council chair, chair of the Maturing of Illinois Committee, and a member of the Advocacy Task Force and Membership Committee.”

Harmony also awarded $500 to AgeOptions.

Nan Anderson, a member and former chair of the AgeOptions Advisory Council, received the Community Hero Advocacy Award from Harmony, a WellCare Company, at a ceremony on June 22. The award is given to persons or organizations who advocate for accessible, quality health care in the community.

Jonathan Lavin, AgeOptions president and CEO, nominated Nan for the award.
