Marshall Community Credit Union Supports CU Shop Local 2021!

Now in its tenth year, CU Lunch Local is continuing its mission of encouraging credit union-wide support for local businesses by shopping and spending dollars locally. This year its not just for credit unions, and it's not just one day in October, but rather all community members are encouraged to spend local, all month long!

Want to participate and support a local Battle Creek business? Consider buying a morning cup of coffee, ordering lunch, shopping local, or endorsing a local business. Acts like these provide the support needed to help our local commerce thrive.

Credit unions have always had a history of giving back and supporting their local communities. In fact, it's part of our philosophy; People Helping People. Marshall Community Credit Union, as well as other area credit unions and credit unions across the country, are standing together and encouraging others, to help lift our local economies as well.

Check out the CU Lunch Local Facebook page at <https://www.facebook.com/search/top?q=cu%20lunch%20local> for more information. Battle Creek community members are also encouraged to use the hashtags #culunchlocal and #cushoplocal on their personal social media sites-when they support businesses in the community.

CU Lunch Local was originally coordinated and established in 2011 and Marshall Community Credit Union has been an active supporter of the event since it's origination and is looking forward to celebrating 10 years of support for the initiative.
