

Building a Movement for Peace

YOUTH AND THE FUTURE OF JERUSALEM

Thursday May 25th
7 PM - Light dinner & interactive activities celebrating Jerusalem, including: Interactive Jerusalem map activity, "Dabkeh" dancing and Interfaith text study "the significance of Jerusalem in the three Abrahamic faiths" .
8 PM - Panel with Q&A "Youth and the future of Jerusalem".
Temple Israel of Natick
145 Hartford St, Natick, MA
CLICK HERE to RSVP, For more info: info@kids4peaceboston.org

Hosted By: Temple Israel, Natick
Co Sponsored By:
Temple Beth Sholom, Framingham
Temple Aliyah , Needham
Hartford Street Presbyterian Church
Temple Emunah ,Lexington

SPEAKERS FROM JERUSALEM

MICHAL NER-DAVID
Michal grew up in a modern orthodox home in Jerusalem, joined Kids4Peace when she was 12 years old and now works on staff coordinating grants and tour groups. Her work for peace is rooted in the value of Tikkun Olam and a strong sense of responsibility to all residents of the holy city.

CARMIEL FRUTKOFF
Carmiel is an innovative experiential educator and tour guide. He is a Jewish advisor for Kids4Peace's newest families and is also founder and CEO of Pluralusalem, a social impact business. Carmiel served as Central Shaliach for USY and the Youth Department of the Conservative movement.

MONTASER AMRO
Montaser is a Palestinian Muslim entrepreneur and activist from Hebron. Trained as an engineer, Montaser now builds bridges between people as coordinator for Kids4Peace programs. Last summer, he was a fellow for the Our Generation Speaks startup incubator at Brandeis University.

Local Chapter Speaker - Boston

SINDY WAYNE
Sindy joined Kids4Peace Boston in the Fall of 2015. As the Executive Director, she oversees all Kids4Peace programs and activities in the Boston area including hosting youth from Jerusalem during summer programs. Kids4Peace Boston offers a year-round, six-year Peace Leader Program focused on the peace building aspirations of Muslim, Christian, and Jewish middle and high school youth from many different communities throughout the Boston-area.

Fifty years since the 1967 war, Jerusalem remains a tense and divided city, where another generation of youth is growing up in the shadow of failed negotiations and continued violence.

But beyond the headlines about racism and incitement, there's another Jerusalem coming to life among the city's teens.

JOIN US to learn about a fast-growing movement for peace that is connecting hundreds of Jewish, Christian and Muslim youth and their parents from all across the city. A community in Jerusalem, from both east and west who are working together towards change.

Meet the inspiring educators of Kids4Peace and learn about their groundbreaking work to build trust, empower leaders, and inspire action.

They will share their personal stories of transformation, successes & challenges of this work, and where they find hope.

Find out how you can invest in peace by supporting a new generation of Jewish, Christian & Muslim, Israeli & Palestinian leaders of change.

k4p.org | 202-544-3000
kids4peaceboston.org

Donate to K4P: k4p.org/waystogive/