

Sarah Nagle-Yang, MD

Co-Program Director, Women's Mental Health Services, University Hospitals Cleveland Medical Center

Associate Director, Psychiatry Residency Training, University Hospitals Cleveland Medical Center

Assistant Professor of Psychiatry, Case Western Reserve University School of Medicine

Dr. Nagle-Yang's clinical and research interests include psychiatric disorders and other mental health issues occurring during pregnancy, postpartum or menopause. She works closely with the high-risk Obstetrics team and the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit (NICU) to provide psychiatric support for women experiencing pregnancy or childbirth complications. She collaborates with two community mental health centers to provide medication management to their pregnant or postpartum clients.

Dr. Nagle-Yang works closely with physician trainees at UH to augment their knowledge of Women's Mental Health and is a founding member of the UH Women's Mental Health Interest Group. She is a member of the American Psychiatric Association, the Marce Society, the North American Society of Obstetrics and Gynecology and The National Task Force on Women's Reproductive Mental Health.

CREDENTIALS

Medical Degree - University of Cincinnati College of Medicine, 2005

Residency in General Adult Psychiatry - Albert Einstein College of Medicine/ Montefiore Medical Center in New York City, 2009

Fellowship in Psychosomatic Medicine - University Hospitals