

The meeting will start promptly at 10 AM, Sunday, March 31st at Kneseth Israel. First, there will be a short introduction, followed by a half-hour presentation. Afterwards, there will be a question and answer period for just short of an hour. The last half-hour will be spent presenting four straw vote motions the Committee has written to allow us to get a sense of whether or not we should move forward with the merger. The straw votes will be cast at separately held congregational meetings on April 14th. As per Maryland state law, to take an actual vote, certain legal documents must be prepared which would result in us incurring a considerable expense. The result of this straw vote will tell us whether or not to move forward with the merger, thus incurring legal fees and other additional expenses.
