Eliza Blue - Songs, Poems and Yarn Summer Tour

Date: July 18

Time: 5-7 PM

Cost: Free

No Registration needed – attend at 631 N. River St., Fall River Fibers

Eliza Blue is bringing her stories, songs, and yarn to Fall River Fibers on Thursday, July 18th! Meet the author, listen to some music, and if you are a fiber lover check out some yarn.

Folk-singer, author, and shepherd Eliza Blue's performances capture a slice of ranch life through stories and songs, and offer a multi-species narrative about the discovery of her interconnection with the grassland ecosystem. Blue's lyrics and prose traverse the geography that carries her from soil to stars and then back again, while also imbued with the humor, joy, and surprise of transitioning from a confirmed urbanite and touring musician to a ranch hand, mother, and wife in one of the most remote counties in the contiguous United States. Blue will be signing books and selling yarn from her flock after each show.

Advanced Sock Knitting with Judy

Creative Weaving on a Rigid Heddle Loom with Terry Slagel

Date: July 31

Time: 10:30-1:30 OR 5-8:00

Cost: $45 includes use of pre-warped looms and weft materials

Register at Chautauqua – Per Session: min 2 / max 5

Unleash your creativity while weaving a small wall hanging (or mat) on a rigid heddle loom using a wide variety of materials. Anything goes. Looms will be pre-warped. You will weave the first two hours and spend the final part of the session cutting your piece off the loom and finishing the ends. Sticks, beads, buttons and dowels will be available for you to finish your piece as desired, or you may bring your own or take home as time allows. Have a favorite yarn or fabric you want to incorporate? Bring it along. Have your own loom you want to use? Contact me and I'll give you warping instructions and a $15 store credit. Want to make a longer, more intricate, piece? Sign up for back-to-back sessions and keep the same loom going. No prior weaving experience necessary. This is a fun, non-threatening, creative way to experience weaving. This class will be held at Fall River Fibers, 631 N. River St.
