Women in STEM Symposium

September 17, 2019 – 8:00 AM

Heritage Nightclub at
Woodloch Resort

Hosted by Lacawac Sanctuary and Workforce Alliance

This 5th annual forum showcases the professional and life experiences of distinguished female STEM and environmental leaders. Through stimulating conversations and active engagement with STEM professionals, this Women in STEM Symposium encourages attendees to pursue STEM careers, exchange ideas, and make lasting connections.

About Lacawac Sanctuary and Field Station

Located in the Pocono Mountains of Northeastern Pennsylvania and founded in 1966, the mission of Lacawac Sanctuary is to provide PreK-12 and collegiate education on environmental and conservation issues; to provide a venue for ecological research, scholarly interaction and the training of scientists; connect all ages to nature and the world around us; and educate all ages and promote healthy living patterns and wellbeing through nature.

About Workforce Alliance

Workforce Alliance, The Community Education Council of Wayne & Pike Counties serves as a regional intermediary. Workforce Alliance builds our workforce and supports lifelong learning through the provision of career services and educational opportunities to strengthen workforce quality and foster a culture that inspires economic growth.
