

Southington Bread for Life, in partnership with the Southington Public Library, and sponsored by the Community Fund of Greater New Britain presents

A Community Conversation

Thursday, September 21 from 7:00pm–8:00pm at Bread for Life, 31 Vermont Avenue

Join us for a discussion around the issue of food insecurity.

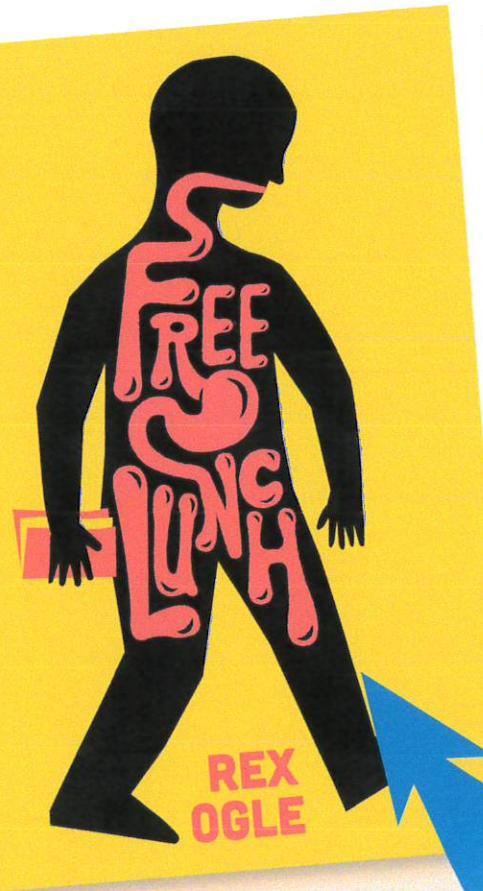

- What is it?
- Who is affected by it?
- How many people experience it?
- What can we do to help address it?

Jason Jakubowski, President and CEO of Connecticut Foodshare will speak to us about food insecurity issues in CT, including statistics, trends, and barriers citizens face in our state.

Refreshments will be served.

This program is free but registration is required.

We recommend the book Free Lunch to those who want to understand more about the issue of food insecurity from the perspective of lived experience of poverty in America.

Thanks to a grant from the CFGNB, copies of this book are available at the Southington Library.
