

Anne Gordon Fritz, Artist

I have been painting since I was a child having been enrolled in a watercolor class at age four. I studied classic art history, interior design and architecture in a small private college in California. I have used skills learned in those classes and further art classes in Chicago where I earned a BGS Degree in Studio Art in 1976.

In 2001, I ventured into painting on silk with Sennelier silk dyes. I loved painting with this medium for 20 years and was quite successful at it. Currently, I paint with watercolors and occasionally mixed media. I enjoy using Gesso Juice to create abstract images within realistic scenes. My paintings have been exhibited in local, state, and national exhibitions.
