

Resources for Coaches found in the Member Dashboard

This week let's take another look at how we provide feedback and how we teach. Nick Winkelman is arguably one of the best in the world at teaching coaches how language impacts the learning process. Guy Krueger, USA Archery Education and Training Manager, explains, "Nick Winkelman has had a tremendous impact on my coaching ability and what I try to teach coaches. I highly recommend incorporating his ideas and research into your coaching to fast track your athletes' progress." Be sure to check out Nick's presentation on Cueing and his new book that was just released called "The Language of Coaching".

In support of his research, we also recommend reviewing the USA Archery Technical Bulletin on cueing in archery.

Resource 1:

What We Say Matters - Uncovering the Truth about Cueing with Nick Winkelman

Resource 2:

The Language of Coaching Preview

The Language of Coaching by Nick Winkelman

Resource 3:

USA Archery Technical Bulletin - Simplifying the Process