

DEDE PICKERING

Dede Pickering's photographs present a bridge between cultures and an expression of the universal human spirit. Driven by her global curiosity and sense of adventure, her work explores unknown corners of the world.

Dede's photography documents different cultures and people wrapped within their everyday lives, especially in marginalized communities. She has visited over 100 countries and captured colorful, compassionate, compelling views from the high peaks of the Himalayas to the hidden villages of indigenous people in some of the world's most remote areas.

Her profound empathy and love for the people of Cuba is brought to life through her images taken over numerous visits to the island. The photographs move seamlessly between the past and present of Cuba's turbulent history, capturing the essential spirit of the Cuban people.

Rev. Matthew Heyd, Rector of Heavenly Rest, commented "I'm so hopeful for the reconciliation between The Episcopal Church in the United States and the Episcopal Church in Cuba. Dede's exhibition is an invitation to explore our shared humanity through her art, which is the goal of our Arts Initiative at CHR. Dede's photographs make visible the grace she has found in Cuba."
