

Hooked on Conservation: A Year in Fisheries Management in NH

Ben Nugent

Inland Fisheries Biologist
NH Fish and Game

Join us to learn about the world beneath New Hampshire's waters with the Inland Fisheries Division of NH Fish and Game. Dedicated to sustaining a wide variety of fish species and enhancing recreational fishing across the state, their work balances science, community partnerships, and the rhythms of nature.

Fisheries Biologist Ben Nugent will provide us with an inside look at a year in fisheries management across the Lakes Region and central New Hampshire. Whether you're a seasoned angler, someone who's never held a fishing rod, or just curious about local wildlife, you're sure to come away with a new appreciation for the fish that call our waters home—and the dedicated efforts to protect them.

Wednesday, September 10
Doors open at 5 PM
Presentation begins at 6 PM
