The RDC is back! And now for the first time in plastic Rapido proudly presents the unique RDC-9! The Budd RDC-9 was introduced in 1956 for the Boston & Maine as a “powered trailer”, designed for use with two regular RDCs in a three car consist. It was a motorized coach powered by a single motor and containing seating for 94 passengers. Lacking control cabs or end windows, it was not designed for independent operation but was controlled by controls in a coupled RDC. Most of the RDC-9 fleet was sold to CN and regularly operating in Canada for VIA Rail until 1988!

In addition, we also have the RDC that started it all: The RDC-1 in a buffet of new schemes. Many of these RDC-1s were built or made their way into commuter service, well into the 1990s. This run will cover some of those operations with a wide variety of attractive schemes.

For more history on the RDCs, check out our Masterclass, which gives an in-depth look on these venerable rail cars.
