Rapido is please to present three new schemes: Cambria & Indiana Bicentennial "Spirit of '76", Soo Line "Twin Ports" and Canadian National with the post-1954 Maple Leaf logo. Each SW9 offers railroad-specific details such as plain bearing Flexicoil or AAR Switcher trucks, simulated brass bells, spark arrestors, original or modified headlights, strobes lights and much more.

The C&I 36 played a huge role in the hills of Pennsylvania on the scrappy shortline. The Soo "Twins" worked the ports of Duluth and Superior on switching and transfer runs.

CN SW9s were generally seen on locals and yard service duties throughout Canada. As far as we know, all ten CN SW9s got the roundel and anyone modelling the late 1950s to late 1960s will need this modified version.

THE SW9 LOCOMOTIVES FEATURE:

- Highly detailed cab interior
- See-through metal etched parts
- Plain bearing flexicoil or AAR switcher trucks (where appropriate)
- Diecast gear boxes for added weight
- Heavy diecast frame
- Rapido semi-scale metal knuckle couplers
- Full LED lighting, including: operating beacons where appropriate
- Dual-mode DC/DCC/ESU LokSound
- MoPower capacitor system for uninterrupted DCC power
