Dear Student,

The Association of Public Health Nutritionists (ASPHN) is seeking a student representative to serve on the Board for one term, from August 1 - July 31. This leadership opportunity is for a student who is an ASPHN member and is enrolled in a degree program during the Board term. Click here to become a member. The degreed program includes students in undergraduate and graduate level nutrition, nutrition related, or public health programs; master and doctorate levels and students in an accredited dietetic internship or dietetic technician program who have a strong interest in nutrition or public health are included. Undergraduates must be at the junior or senior level at the time of the appointed term. The applicant may be a sophomore when submitting the application if by August the junior status is achieved. All applicants are required to have leadership experience, as explained on the application.

The position will require approximately eight (8) hours a month. These hours reflect preparation and participation for the monthly Board conference calls, and committee calls and work required. The conference call dates will be provided in August for the year to help with scheduling purposes. However, Board meetings are on the second Friday each month from 11:30 am to 1:00 pm ET. Committee and council meetings will vary.

If you are interested in the student board position, please complete the application by March 31, 2026. Notifications will be provided in May. An orientation time for the selected student will be in June or July.

ASPHN strives to develop strong public health nutrition leaders across all states. As a national organization we are recognized for leadership efforts to strengthen nutrition policy, programs, and environments. If you would like to know more about the ASPHN Associate Membership category, which includes a discount membership fee for emerging leaders, please visit our website.
