

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS COUNCIL 12012 IS HAPPY TO ANNOUNCE THE RETURN OF

TRIVIA KNIGHT

Please plan on joining us for a fun night of dinner and trivia on Saturday, August 1st in Fellowship Hall. Doors open at 6:15 with dinner and beverages, followed by the best Trivia game you will ever play (at least on August 1st).

Winning is easy! Well, at least winning a door prize is easy, as they will be awarded based on random drawing. Player registration and payment of the very reasonable fee of $35 per person are due by the entry deadline of July 27th.

Don't think you know enough to help your team? Worried about being embarrassed? Don't be! Here is a little taste of what you can expect in the game:

- There are NO set categories, as you may have encountered with some other Trivia games. The dreaded Opera and Shakespeare categories do NOT exist.
- Although we are an organization of Catholic men, being Catholic will not be a significant advantage to you. Bible-type questions – if any – are mainly of the “How many Commandments did God have Moses write on the two stone tablets?” variety.
- Finally, you are far more likely to hear a question involving Frank Sinatra than you are one about Beyonce.

We are extremely happy to welcome back as host Bob Armour, a very good friend of the Knights and a St. Matthew parishioner. Bob will preface the start of the game by covering the format of play and our (very) few rules.

All proceeds support the charitable projects of the Knights at both St. Henry and St. Matthew parish. For more information, please contact any of our committee members below:
