JOHN PAUL II CENTER FOR SPECIAL LEARNING

John Paul II Center for Special Learning firmly believes in its mission to provide a specialized education to students with intellectual and developmental disabilities regardless of their families' ability to pay. If we can make a difference in a child's life, we will. For the 2023-2024 school year, JPII will provide $1,568,000 in scholarship and financial aid to these families and we anticipate that this amount will continue to increase each school year. We need your help to continue to be able to provide nearly 96% of assistance to our families who otherwise could not afford to attend our school.

You can create a $5,000 scholarship for only $500 and 100% of your contribution supports John Paul II Center for Special Learning scholarships.

Through the Special Purpose Entity (SPE) tax credit program, individuals and businesses can receive a 90% PA tax credit while providing scholarships for JPII students. You must pay taxes regardless, so why not direct those dollars to help JPII students?

Who you will help?

"JPII has given me hope that I will get Benjamin out of generations of poverty. We really come from nothing and have nothing, except for JPII," says June S., JPII parent. "Thanks to those who contribute to SPE, my son Benjamin is now a happy and confident first grader surrounded by supportive and caring educators and therapists. He is being nurtured in ways that never would have been possible in his local school district. He is also making friends and interacting with his peers. I would have never been able to afford him such an education on my own. We will forever be grateful for this life-changing opportunity."
