Ottawa Public Health - information and training opportunities

Ottawa Public Health is interested in exploring whether there is a need within the community of bar owners and staff in Ottawa for information as it pertains to opioid overdoses, fentanyl, and the administration of naloxone. A number of local bars and pubs have already requested and received overdose awareness and naloxone administration training, and others have submitted requests to participate in future training.

If there is a larger interest among BIA members, Ottawa Public Health would like the opportunity to provide access to the appropriate resources.

Can you please circulate amongst your members and should any have interest in general overdose awareness information only, OPH has produced a series of webinars that can be viewed at their convenience. These are available as follows:
