

Panelists for the discussion include Senator Jean Breaux of Indianapolis; Columbia law professor, Carol Sanger; and Josh Vollmer, student at IU Medical School. Carol McCord, Asst. Dean of Students and task force member, will moderate.

Senator Breaux has first-hand experience with the effects of gerrymandering, which has resulted in the onslaught of restrictions on our Indiana abortion providers; Carol Sanger recently published About Abortion: Terminating Pregnancy in Twenty-First-Century America, and Josh Vollmer completed an externship with abortion providers at Planned Parenthood this summer and is a patient escort there.
