

Green Camino Composting Update August 4, 2019

First, The lock combination for the drop-off cabinet will change starting August 4. If you are participating in the composting program, you should have received an email with the combination. If you did not, please contact info@greencaminocompost.com.

Have you had issues opening the locks? Please note that only one side of the lock has a white stripe and when you are setting the dials to open the lock, the 4-letter code should be aligned with the white stripe...

Second, we are happy to announce that UU members who are subscribed to the drop-off service can now use our other drop-off cabinets in addition to the one located on the east side of the UU parking lot. The same lock combination that opens the UU drop-off will open the other cabinets, which are located at:

East-side drop-off shed: located behind the Deep Roots Garden Center, at Bloomingfoods East.

Address: 3220 E 3rd St, Bloomington, IN 47401

West-side drop-off shed: located at Bloomingfoods West, by the entrance that is accessed through the store's parking lot.

Address: 316 W 6th St, Bloomington, IN 47404

Finally, we've had a few UU members leave 5-gallon buckets and blue pails full of organic materials outside Fellowship Hall and outside of the UU drop-off cabinet. Please note that we no longer collect full buckets and pails at the UU, and all compostable materials MUST be emptied out into a bin located INSIDE the drop-off cabinets. Importantly, only drop-off subscribers may use the drop-off service so we ask that you don't share the lock code with fellow UU members who have not subscribed ($$) for the service.

As always, if you experience any issues with the drop-off cabinets, please contact us immediately by email at info@greencaminocompost.com or give us a call at (812) 269 2280.
