

More about Resilience! on September 21:

Collaborators include the City of Bloomington, the UUCB Racial Justice Task Force, and the Bloomington Center for Connection. Many more community partners will be present with information on how you can activate and promote change, and donations will be accepted for RAICES (raicetexas.org), a nonprofit agency that promotes justice by providing free and low-cost legal services to underserved immigrant children, families, and refugees.
