

Please see below for the different ways you can view and participate in this event.

The Green Sanctuary Task Force invites you to join us on September 11th at 5:45 PM to livestream a Zoom talk by Katharine Hayhoe, chief scientist at the Nature Conservancy and on the advisory board of IU's Environmental Resilience Institute. Her talk will be based on her book Saving Us: A Climate Scientist's Case for Hope and Healing in a Divided World. This watch party is organized by Earth Care Bloomington, an affiliate of Faith in Place, exploring the Intersection of Climate, Faith, and Justice. Attendees will be able to submit questions via Zoom chat, and we will host a discussion after her talk. Note: Masks will be required.

Please email Molly O'Donnell, MollySOD (at) gmail.com, so we know to expect you!

Anyone not able to attend in person may register to watch the live streamed talk on their own, and they may also view any of the sessions the following two days during the Faith in Place Green Team Summit.

Monday September 12

7:30 PM: Exploring Environmental Justice with Faith Leaders

Tuesday September 13

12:30 PM: Climate Resilience from a Justice Perspective

7:30 PM: Healing Centered Justice

<https://www.greenteamsummit.org/register-2022?emci=846c23d8-d118-ed11-bd6e-281878b83d8a&emdi=5ad334bf-d119-ed11-bd6e-281878b83d8a&ceid=5400278>