"Intricately composed...Ahmed hammers home that recognition of the humanity of others is essential to a civilized society, and that there is no reason why Muslims should not take their rightful place in the pluralist, tolerant society symbolized by the Statue of Liberty." -Jonathan Benthall, Anthropology Today

"Barbara J Stephenson, Deputy Chief of Mission at the US Embassy in London commented, 'Professor Ahmed is — quite simply — one of the greatest scholars of Islam in the world today... for me, [Journey into America makes] the essential discovery: that you can be an American and a Muslim and it diminishes neither your national nor your religious identity.' --Tyler Brazitis, The Express Tribune
