

Getting Ready

A lot of what we are tasked with doing in life is 'getting ready.' A lot of what being a Christian involves is getting ready. In the New Testament, Paul spends a lot of time getting ready and trying to help the early church get ready for the returning of Christ.

We spend a lot of time getting ready for things in our life. Our education system is always preparing us for the next level of education; in higher education we are expected to get ready to join the workforce.

Right now, we seem to be trying to get ready for a life after Covid-19. Unfortunately, it seems that we are experiencing more setbacks than progress.

We also are getting ready to start another new normal as school starts up again and learning will be a challenge because everything will be virtual.

Do you always feel like you are getting ready?

What do you feel like you are getting ready for right now?

In what ways does getting ready feel more exhausting than actually getting to the destination?

What would you like to be getting ready for?

How can you be getting ready for what you would like and what you need at the same time?
