

Who is someone that you would say 'has their life together'?

What about them makes you think this about them?

Are they someone that you would consider blessed?

What makes someone blessed?

If there are people who are blessed, are there also people who are not blessed?

Jesus has a very unique take on Blessings. When he talks about the people who are blessed, he doesn't bring up the people you think. Read Matthew 5:1-12.

Why does Jesus include those groups of people in his teachings?

What does it mean for the people who are not listed?

Who do you expect Jesus is talking to, those listed in his blessings or those not listed?

What should our reaction be to his teachings here?

How should his teachings affect the way we view and treat those people he included?
