

Questions, Questions, Questions

When I was growing up, no one told me that questions were good. In fact, they mostly told me that they were bad. The truth is that I think questions are what help us grow and think critically.

Today is going to be different, I would like you to write down all the questions about God, the bible, and Christianity that you can think of. I am not Going to limit you to what you can ask. Anything that you can think of in that realm is fair game. If you feel comfortable, send me an email using my Falls Church Email and we will revisit those questions in a week, together. No one will have their names attached to any of these questions but we will dive into them. We have talked about a lot of stuff this year, and a lot of stuff has happened. All of that is one the table.

My email is jwunderlich@thefallschurch.org and I check it daily.
