

Dear Friends in Faith,

I have been fortunate to have many mentors and friends who have helped me see God in the midst of everyday occurrences. God is truly in the thick of this thing we call life. Conversations with such friends have helped me become more aware of what God might be up to in my life and in those around me. I have needed such a community to assist me in my formation as a Christian.

As Episcopalians, we believe Christ is known in and through our encounters with each other. Such an incarnational stance is part of what we believe as we strive to be Christ-like toward others and see Christ in each other.

If you feel a hunger to be in a small group of seekers who want to ponder, listen, and explore life and that which is most important to growing in faith, this course may be for you. We will meet once a month for six months, which will give each member a chance to share his/her stories, challenges, and blessings. The class size will be limited to six to allow for authentic conversations and discovery.

A few questions we will ponder go as follows:

What have I been praying about lately?

What am I wrestling with?

What am I looking forward to?

Just to share a few.

Pray and look for the sign-up opportunity that will follow. These classes will be on Zoom.

Peace,

Rev. Michael
