

How Private is My Personal Information?

Library Privacy Week

Thursday, December 8, 12 - 1 PM

From messaging friends on social media to using assistant technology on our phones, we're increasingly connected to the digital world.

Join our panel of experts for a discussion on how the privacy of our personal data has become one of the important topics of the 21st century and gain techniques to improve your data privacy.

This is an online program.

This program is co-sponsored by the International Association of Privacy Professionals (IAPP).

You must register to receive Zoom link to participate.

Register at tinyurl.com/NYPL128.

Adults 18+

For ASL, CART, or other accommodations, please email accessibility@nypl.org

New York
Public Library

Sedgwick Library

1701 Dr M.L.K. Jr Blvd, The Bronx, NY 10453
(718) 731-2074

Fully Accessible

Connect with us:

nypl.org/events