

Coming to your computer: Monthly practice!

Terton Kunzang Nyima's Vajrasattva

When Ven. Gyatrul Rinpoche was young, he met and received transmissions from Dudjom Lingpa's speech emanation, Terton Kunzang Nyima, including an extensive Vajrasattva Six Bardos teaching. During that time, at Rinpoche's request, the terton revealed a short daily version of the Vajrasattva practice, "The Mirror of Vajrasattva's Enlightened Mind," and entrusted it to Rinpoche as the treasure owner. However, when Rinpoche fled Tibet, he lost all contact with this profound lineage.

Finally, in 2007, Lama Chonam was able to locate a copy of Terton Kunzang Nyima's collected works and make a connection with Tulku Theglo Rinpoche as a lineage holder. Gyatrul Rinpoche was overjoyed to reconnect with this lineage and to find the text of the concise Vajrasattva practice. He explained that since he is the treasure owner but has not been able to practice this extensively in this life, it is important that his students and dharma centers uphold this practice, in its concise and extensive versions.

If you are interested in attending this practice, email Ila at ilareitz@gmail.com and request to be added to the group email list. Dates to be announced.

With this intention, Ila Reitz will lead this concise practice once a month, online on the video conferencing site Zoom. We will recite the practice in English and Tibetan, and conclude with a short reading of dharma related to the practice.