

Andres Vinelli

Andres leads the CFA Institute research function, which is foundational to developing the organization's advocacy positions, standards, and codes. As a member of the Research, Advocacy and Standards Leadership Team, he works to augment cross-departmental and cross-functional original research. Andres also guides economic market analysis and the creation of products to inform and support policy positions and the development of industry standards.

Andres currently serves as a member of the FINRA Investor Issues Committee.
