FISHBOWL SPONSORSHIPS

A LETTER FROM
ARCH STREET CENTER

IT'S ALL FOR OUR MEMBERS

At Arch Street Center, we have the pleasure of working with some truly remarkable individuals. Our members are dedicated, hardworking, and possess an immense amount of pride in their Center. Here, they feel safe and at home, away from the stigmas that often surrounds mental health diagnoses.

As staff members, it brings us great joy to watch our members grow and flourish. We are constantly providing new opportunities and programs that help them expand their horizons. Our garden program, yoga classes, and off-site activities are just a few examples of the initiatives we've implemented based on our members' suggestions.

Many of our members have lost relations with their families. We strive to create a welcoming and inclusive environment where everyone is treated with respect and dignity. We don't replace their family of origin but give them an opportunity to connect with a new one.

We invite you to visit our center and meet our members. We're confident that you'll be impressed by their resilience, dedication, and positive attitudes. You'll see the value that Arch Street provides every day – to our members, staff, and the community at large.

Together, we're building a community where everyone can thrive, grow, and belong.

With sincerity,

Scooter Haase, Executive Director

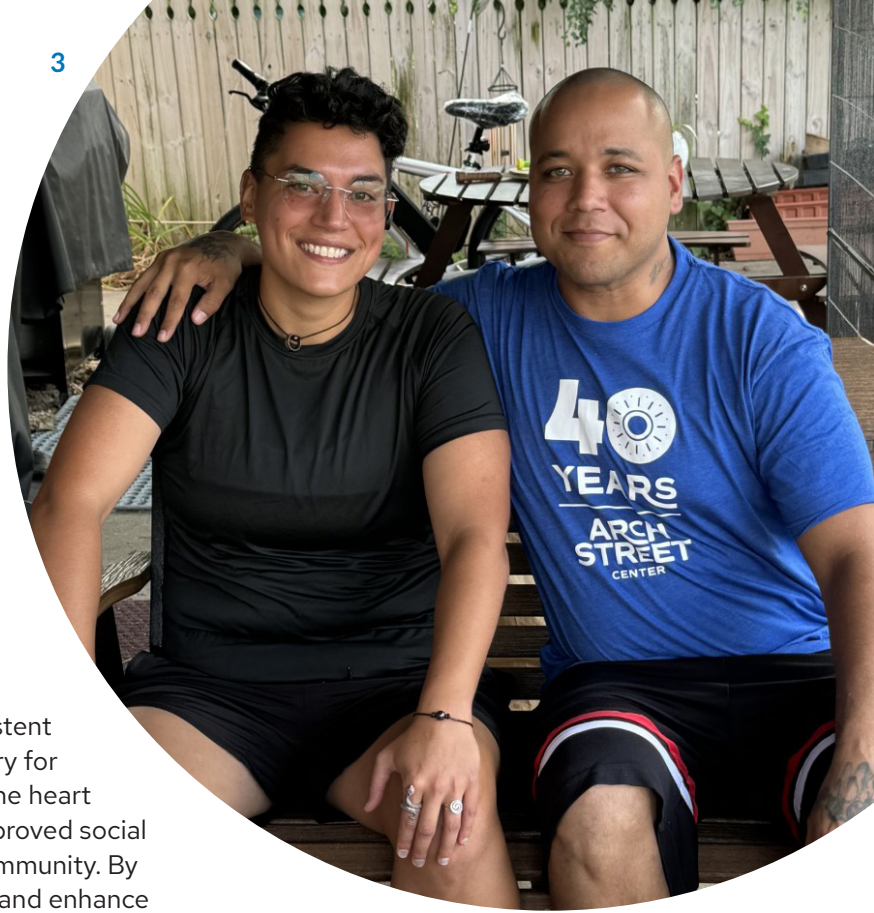

Susanne Materia, Director of Development

Arch Street Center is an independent 501(c)3 organization that provides a membership-based day program for adults living with serious mental illness. We offer a safe, caring, and judgment-free space focused on social rehabilitation through recreation and empowerment. Many adults with mental health issues experience isolation, with few close friends or family to rely on, and are at high risk of being neglected or forgotten by their communities. At Arch Street Center, members connect with peers without the burden of stigma or external pressures.

Our dedicated staff creates a welcoming, friendly, and respectful environment. We collaborate with local, state, and private mental health agencies to provide the consistent social support and positive human connections necessary for overall health and well-being. Social rehabilitation is at the heart of our mission, offering numerous benefits, including improved social skills, increased self-esteem, and a stronger sense of community. By participating in various activities, members can develop and enhance their interpersonal relationships, which are crucial for their recovery and long-term mental health.

Since 1983, our primary objective has been to support the whole person—body, mind, and spirit—while making the effort to understand each member's unique, individual needs. Arch Street Center is a place where our members know they belong, fostering a sense of community and acceptance that is vital for their overall well-being.
