

Meet the City Information Technology Director

The City of Sheboygan welcomes Greg Vertelka as the new Information Technology Director. Greg started his new position on Monday, April 3, 2017.

Prior to joining the City of Sheboygan, Greg has spent much of his career in large multi-national organizations, including General Electric and Johnson Controls (to name a few), but has also helped grow smaller organizations into larger players in their markets. Most recently, Greg served as the Senior Vice President of IT for HSA Bank which is headquartered in Sheboygan, Wisconsin.

Greg holds degrees in Business Administration and Management along with Certifications in Six Sigma.

Greg and his wife, Jeannine, reside in Germantown. Between them, they have four children. In his spare time, Greg enjoys many outdoor sports including golfing, hunting, boating and biking. Greg is also the president of a youth football program.
