The draft Solano Transportation Resiliency Plan (STRP) is now available!

Join the STA on Thursday, November 12 for our second Community Meeting to learn more and share your input on the draft STRP.

The Solano Transportation Authority (STA) has developed the Solano Transportation Resiliency Plan (STRP) to make the county's transportation network more reliable and resilient to the extreme weather events of both today and the future. Through extensive research, coordination with local jurisdictions, and community input received during the first round of engagement, STA has identified transportation infrastructure vulnerable to extreme weather events and created a list of possible protection measures.

At the meeting, you can:

- Share feedback on proposed mitigation measures
- Learn more about how community input was used throughout the Plan development process
- Ask questions and connect with the project team
