Real Estate in the News

Millennials are Ready to Take Over the Real Estate Market

Over the last several years, millennials have rented to stay nimble and keep work opportunities open. Now, they're ready to buy. Why it matters? About 4.8 million millennials are turning 30 in 2021, and many are expected to enter the home-buying game if they haven't already. According to Axios, this wave of new buyers will have the opportunity to build and pass on wealth and shape the market for years to come. Read More...

Local Events

Cinco de Mayo - Wednesday May 5th

Get in the spirit of Mexico! There's no better place to celebrate than Old Town San Diego. With celebrations beginning on the first of the month, now's the time to explore the Mexican heritage, historical sites, museums, unique shops, and eclectic restaurants. The taco and tequila specials are calling your name!

Mother's Day Brunch - Sunday May 9th

It's time to treat mom to spectacular ocean views and a Mother's Day brunch at George's at the Cove in La Jolla. Or maybe head to the food hall of Liberty Public Market and enjoy a picnic lunch amid the beautiful landscaping of Liberty Station. For more Mother's Day ideas click here.

Memorial Day - Monday May 31st

Honor our military personnel by visiting the Veteran's Museum and Memorial Center in Balboa Park or take a drive to the Mt. Soledad National Veteran's Memorial in La Jolla. Pay tribute to the more than 200,000 servicemen who served aboard the USS Midway Museum. For more Memorial Day events click here.
