SD COUNTY FIRE TARGETED GRAZING PROJECT

By Yvette Urrea Moe, County of San Diego Communications Office

About 525 goats are grazing at Star Valley Park in Valley Center as part of County Fire's first targeted grazing project. The goats will remove plants that can fuel wildfires, adding an eco-friendly tool to the County's wildfire prevention efforts. Targeted grazing adds another option to traditional vegetation management methods, including hand crews, controlled burns and machines. Grazing cannot remove all wildfire risk however; it can support prevention efforts.

"Goats are doing fuel management for us and creating fire breaks. This is just one of our pre-fire strategies to make our communities more resilient," County Fire Director Jeff Collins said. "It's all about reducing risks and making the region safer."

Over the next two weeks, the herd is expected to graze about 38 acres of grass and tree shoots. Star Valley Park, a former working ranch, is undeveloped land at 29902 Valley Center Road. The County hopes to expand the program to areas throughout the County in the coming year.

AMERICA RECYCLES DAY – RESIDENTIAL RECYCLING TIPS & RESOURCES

America Recycles Day is November 15th and a great day to remind ourselves of the importance of recycling and the role it plays in preventing water pollution. Household pollutants such as trash, plastics, yard waste, food waste, and more, if not disposed of or recycled properly, can flow from our property through water runoff into our storm drain system.

One of the most effective ways to prevent pollutants from reaching our waterways is to not generate waste in the first place by reusing, repurposing, donating, and recycling. Not only will you be helping to protect our waterways, but you'll also be saving energy, conserving natural resources, and reducing the amount of waste sent to landfills.

Visit the County's Watershed Protection Program to learn about other ways to prevent stormwater pollution at https://www.sandiegocounty.gov/content/sdc/dpw/watersheds.html

COMMUNITY FEEDBACK REQUESTS

PARK LAND DEDICATION ORDINANCE PRIORITY LIST

The mission of the County of San Diego Department of Parks and Recreation (DPR) is to enhance the quality of life in San Diego County by providing exceptional parks and recreation experiences and preserving significant natural resources. DPR facilities build strong and sustainable communities by providing residents with space to play, exercise, recreate, and gather, which supports physical, social, emotional and mental well-being.

The San Diego County Park Land Dedication Ordinance (PLDO) requires new residential development projects in the unincorporated county to dedicate parkland, pay in-lieu park fees, or use a combination of both to accommodate new residents.

In 2024 & 2025, the Lakeside Community Planning Group collected feedback from the community regarding DPR projects in concert with PLDO funding. Some of those projects include updated Lindo Lake Park playground equipment, park shade structures, a veteran's memorial, and an off-leash dog park.

It is time for to gather feedback from the community for the 2026 priority list.

Do you have a suggestion? Please send an email to LakesideCPG@gmail.com and if appropriate, we can add your submission to the PLDO list.
