University of Northwestern, St. Paul Elects SPIRE's Stoltz to Board Chair

Dan Stoltz, CEO/President of SPIRE Credit Union, was recently elected Chairman of the Board for the University of Northwestern, St. Paul

Falcon Heights, MN

Dan Stoltz, CEO/President of SPIRE Credit Union, has been elected Chairman of the Board for the University of Northwestern, St. Paul (UNW). UNW began in Minneapolis in 1902 as Northwestern Bible and Missionary Training School, starting with just seven students. Today, under the leadership of President Alan S. Cureton, Ph.D., UNW currently enrolls 3,000+ students in more than 70 areas of undergraduate study and six graduate degree programs.

A Certified Public Accountant, Stoltz holds his Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Northwestern, St. Paul, and his Masters of Business Administration from the University of St. Thomas. UNW is a family tradition in the Stoltz household; his wife and all three children graduated from UNW. Having a genuine devotion to giving back to his Alma Mater, Dan has served UNW in various capacities through the years.

"I have had the pleasure to be involved with UNW nearly my entire life, and am honored to be elected as Board Chair," says Stoltz, "I can't think of any better way to enrich my support of UNW than to serve in this capacity."
