The Unveiling of Because It's Time Public Artwork by Dare Coulter

June 18, 10 - 11 a.m.
Near UNCW Amphitheater

About the Event

The Office of the Arts commissioned award-winning artist, muralist and sculptor Dare Coulter to create public artwork for the UNCW campus inspired by Black Lives Matter. Our hope is that this commemorative artwork will bring awareness about race, identity, the Black experience and Wilmington's long, dark history of racial violence.

Light refreshments will be available at the unveiling event with entertainment provided by Benny Hill.
Rain site: Fisher University Union, Clocktower Lounge

In partnership with the Office of Community Engagement and Applied Learning, the Office of Institutional Diversity and Inclusion, UNCW Office of Facilities and Lite Brite Neon
