

BOYS SCENES 4-8 YEARS OLD

HUDSON

Hudson: Dad, why can't we get a dog?

Reader: Well because dogs are a big responsibility.

Hudson: What if I promise to play with it every day and let it sleep in my room?

Reader: That would be helpful, although dogs still require much more attention.

Hudson: How about I also feed it and walk it and give it a bath?

Reader: That would be a huge help too. But what if the dog uses the bathroom in the house?

Hudson: Geez, Dad, I can't do everything! I'm only one person! You and Mom are going to have to pitch in, too.

TAYLOR

Reader: Oh, now don't be nervous.

Taylor: I'm not nervous. Not one bit.

Reader: Are you sure? It's okay to be nervous on your first day of school.

Taylor: Okay. I am a little nervous. Actually, I'm freaking out a little.

Reader: You'll do fine.

Taylor: Were you nervous on your first day of school?

Reader: Absolutely. Just take deep breaths.

Taylor: (breathing hard) Okay, mom. Here I go. I'm gonna make you proud!

JACKSON

Jackson: DAD!

Reader: What is it son?

Jackson: There's a troll in my closet!

Reader: There are no such things as trolls.

Jackson: Yes there are. You said that Aunt Franny was as ugly as a troll...

Reader: I shouldn't have said that. Now go to sleep.

Jackson: DAD! Come here, come quick! There's an Aunt Franny in my closet!

DEVIN

Devin: I miss mommy so much.

Reader: I know honey, I miss her too.

Devin: Who's going to make my breakfast and tuck me in at night?

Reader: I'm going to do my best, I promise.

Devin: But it's not the same, you're not her.

Reader: I know. But I love you just as much.

Devin: I love you too Daddy.

MIKEY

Mikey: (Looking down) Aaaaaaahhhh!! It's a dead rat!

Grandpa: What are you talking about?

Mikey: (Looking at Grandpa's head) Aaaahhhhhh, where's your hair.

Grandpa: If you're bald in Hollywood, you get fake hair. Its called a toupee...

Mikey: You're toupee scared me! Maybe you shouldn't leave those kind of things laying around in the dark!

CALEB

Caleb: I know something you don't know.

Reader: What is that?

Caleb: I learned something in history class today.

Reader: Well at least you're learning something in school.

Caleb: Yeah dad. Like, do you know where a king keeps his armies?

Reader: I don't know, where?

Caleb: Up his SLEEVIES!

JONNIE

Jonnie: Why do we have to go on vacation to see the Grand Canyon?

Reader: I thought you would be excited.

Jonnie: It's just a big hole.

Reader: It's more then a big hole. It's amazing.

Jonnie: I would rather be amazed at Disney World. That sounds like a lot more fun than a big hole.

Reader: Maybe next year.
