

FEMALE SCENE 4-8 YEARS

RACHEL

Rachel: I'm sorry I read your diary.

Reader: Well I'm sure you've learned your lesson now, right?

Rachel: Yeah, and I hope you can forgive me because sneaking behind your back was wrong.

Reader: Of course I forgive you. I love you.

Rachel: Good! Because I also Tweeted to your whole class that you have a crush on your teacher...

Reader: You WHAT?

Rachel: I said I TWEETED TO YOUR WHOLE CLASS THAT YOU HAVE A CRUSH ON YOUR TEACHER!

Reader: Why you little monster!!!

LEILA

Reader: Why the long face?

Leila: I lost another tooth yesterday.

Reader: How exciting! Did you put it under your pillow last night?

Leila: Yeah, but.....

Reader: Did the Tooth Fairy forget your tooth?

Leila: No, but she only left me five bucks! I think my teeth are worth more.

Reader: Well, if it makes you feel better, when I was little teeth only went for a quarter!

Leila: What? Twenty-five cents? You should have brushed your teeth better!

KELLY

Reader: Kelly, I'm so sorry.

Kelly: Dad! You missed my dance solo.

Reader: I know sweetie, there was a terrible accident and I was stuck in traffic for hours.

Kelly: All of the other Dads were there and they gave their daughters flowers and everything.

Reader: Could you perform your dance solo for me when we get home?

Kelly: Well...Okay. As long as I get flowers

Reader: You mean like these ones? (he holds out a bouquet).

Kelly: (very excited) I love them! When we get home you're going to see the best snowflake in Mrs. Johnson's class.

Reader: I can't wait.

Jennifer

Jennifer: Everyone come quickly! Someone ate all the chocolate pudding!

Reader: What are you yelling about?

Jennifer: I think someone broke into the house and ate all of the chocolate pudding!

Reader: Maybe we should make some more and set up a trap for the thief.

Jennifer: That was just what I was thinking. I'll get the mixing bowl.

Reader: Wait a minute. What is all over your face?

Jennifer: (surprised) That thief must have put chocolate pudding all over my face. He is a criminal genius...

Taylor

Reader: Oh, now don't be nervous.

Taylor: I'm not nervous. Not one bit.

Reader: Are you sure? It's okay to be nervous on your first day of school.

Taylor: Okay. I am a little nervous. Actually, I'm freaking out a little.

Reader: You'll do fine.

Taylor: Were you nervous on your first day of school?

Reader: Absolutely. Just take deep breaths.

Taylor: (breathing hard) Okay, mom. Here I go. I'm gonna make you proud!

JANIE

Janie: Why do we have to go on vacation to see the Grand Canyon?

Reader: I thought you would be excited?

Janie: It's just a big hole.

Reader: It's more than a big hole. It's amazing!

Janie: I would rather be amazed at Disney World. That sounds like a lot more fun than a big hole...

Reader: Maybe next year...F

DEVIN

Devin: I miss mommy so much.

Reader: I know honey, I miss her too.

Devin: Who's going to make my breakfast and tuck me in at night?

Reader: I'm going to do my best, I promise.

Devin: But it's not the same, you're not her.

Reader: I know. But I love you just as much.

Devin: I love you too Daddy.

EMILY

Emily: I think you should be able to eat Ice Cream for dinner

Dad: Honey, Ice Cream doesn't have what you need .to grow big and strong.

Emily: Well it is made with milk isn't it?

Dad: Yes but they have added a lot of sugar to make it Ice Cream.

Emily: Make up your mind dad. One minute you're asking me to be sweet and then you don't want me to eat sugar. MEN!

KATELYN

Katelyn: Dad, I want an allowance.

Dad: Sweetie, you are too young to get an allowance.

Katelyn: But dad, Tommy gets an allowance. What makes him so special?

Dad: Your brother is older, and he cleans his room. That is why he gets an allowance.

Katelyn: Well I am sweeter and much cuter, that should be good for something. I'll let you think about it and then get back to you.
