

Call for Storytellers!

Storytelling Evening at Southern Utah University

On March 21, 2024, the SUU College of Education and Human Development will present a Storytelling Evening. The theme is "Resonance."

"It is in the resonance of people encountering each other in the fullness of their humanity that the melodies of a new creative energy unfold." -Daisaku Ikeda

If you are interested in joining us to share a story, read the full details at our website: www.suu.edu/storytelling or use the QR code. Keep these requirements in mind:

- Submit a short pitch of your story, no more than two minutes long, in the form of audio, video, or PDF. A story pitch is a short teaser of the main points of your story.
- Pitches should explore a time when a story created a space of resonance which allowed you to form a connection.
- Final stories are expected to be 8-10 minutes long.
- We welcome story pitches from all community members residing in Iron County.
- Submissions will be accepted until December 31, 2023.

We will provide skilled coaching for storytellers prior to the event to craft their stories for the stage. Storytellers must be 18 years of age or older by March 21, 2024.

This event is part of SUU's Storytelling Festival which will include an Eccles A.P.E.X. lecture by Kevin Cordi, a storytelling workshop for K-12 educators, and other events.

Kevin Cordi, international award winning storyteller.

SUU Storytelling Festival

Full details or to submit a story:

suu.edu/storytelling

SUU SOUTHERN UTAH UNIVERSITY
Beverley Taylor Sorenson College of Education & Human Development

artsFUSION
https://www.suu.edu/artsfusion