

KAREN TYNAN

Karen Tynan is an of counsel attorney in the Sacramento office of Ogletree Deakins. She's spent the last fifteen years advising employers throughout California regarding both complex and everyday employment issues and problems. She's litigated employment cases in Federal and California State court, the DLSE, and other administrative forums. She's currently working with employers in the California entertainment, construction, and services industries to adjust to the new landscape "Post AB5," implementing business solutions and evolving businesses to remain compliant and compatible with state labor laws.
