

Texas Government Relations Update

"The Texas Association of Builders had a successful Rally Day at the Texas Capitol on March 29. More than 700 members from across the state gathered together to meet with their local legislators to deliver TAB's legislative agenda. The day started with a welcome speech from Texas Land Commissioner, Dawn Buckingham, TAB President, Donnie Evans, and TAB's CEO, Scott Norman. Members had a busy day visiting with their elected senators and representatives. To conclude the day, TAB held a Legislative Reception at the historical Driskill Hotel in downtown Austin.

Statewide participation was vital to the success of Rally Day and ultimately the catalyst in spreading the word of housing attainability and affordability, and TAB's legislative goals. Two local home builders associations stood out with excellent participation. Congratulations to the Big Country HBA for having the largest percentage of members present and to the Greater Houston BA for having the most members present at Rally Day!"

- Texas Association of Builders had two priority Bills this Legislative Session: Statute of Repose and RCLA. Both Bills made it out of the House and are currently in the Senate's hands.

Invest in HomePAC?

Without HOMEPAC's participation, decisions affecting the future of the residential building industry will be influenced by other industries and groups, many of whom represent interests directly opposed to our own. It's only through the voluntary contributions of our members that HOMEPAC can help preserve a positive political climate for the home building and development industry in Texas.
